EPA Section 609 Certification (MACS)

Description

The Clean Air Act of 1990 requires auto technicians to be certified in handling and purchasing refrigerants.

Detailed information on the EPA Section 609 Study Guide and Test are available on the MACS Website.

Before taking the EPA 609 Certification test, MACS strongly recommends industry professionals completely review the Section 609 Study Guide. When the Section 609 Study Guide and/or webinar has been reviewed, choose from an at-home or online 609 Certification test in English or Spanish. The test is open book with 25 multiple-choice questions. There is also a FREE 10-question practice exam available online. (only)

Registration Information

Visit the MACS Website to self-register, download the 609 Study Guide and take the exam.

Special Notes

- If you are currently EPA 609 Certified through another EPA Approved certifying body, and there are many, there's no need to complete the MACS Exam.
- Your LM or RMM can purchase the MACS Online Exam for you.
